Welcome! I am excited to be teaching many of the electives at ALSELC this school year. These include Preparation for Parenting, Child Development, Individual and Family Living, Interior Design and Physical Education-(book/writing portion). I share a room with Ms. Romano, who teaches Art I, Art History and Spanish I & II. Along with monitoring student progress in these electives, I will also be assisting students as need be in other classrooms. At times I will be facilitating with the TAKS tests by teaching testing strategies and tutoring on a one-on-one basis.

Since I share a classroom, it is extremely important for everyone to cooperate and adhere to the directions on "The Do's and Don'ts of Using Modules" for electives. Also, please read over the "Questions You Might Have" page before starting. Reviewing these pages will help you understand the expectations I have for students taking electives.

Please note, I want input from you on the modules and textbooks you will be using. I will give credit for a well-written one page synopsis or critique of a module in place of an End of Module test. I want to know what you liked and didn't like about the module, and what you learned from it. I would like to have suggestions and ideas from you about teaching the information in the module and making it more relevant to you. I plan to modify these courses partly on the basis of your feedback. Remember, your suggestions must be well thought out, with plausible reasons, ideas and alternatives.

You can also find information you need on my web site under Allison L. Steele Enhanced Learning Center. Please ask if you have any questions. Looking forward to working with you.
