

EVERYDAY SUCCESSES

VOLUME 3, ISSUE 10

OCTOBER 21-25, 2019

1 – Congratulations to the bands at Byron P. Steele High School and Samuel Clemens High School for attaining First Division ratings at the UIL Marching Contest. #DynamicLeader #SelfMotivated #SkilledCommunicator

2 – Journalism students from our two traditional high schools also had an impressive showing at the Texas Association of Journalism Educators state convention. Six awards were handed out to Clemens High School students, including “Superior” recognition for Taylor Trapp in editorial writing and Pedro Perez for on-site portrait photography. Meanwhile, Amar Rodgers took home “Superior” acknowledgement for photography. #DynamicLeader #SelfMotivated #SkilledCommunicator

3 – Alternative Learning Experience (ALE) students participated in the activities surrounding the Steele-New Braunfels varsity football game last Friday. They ran through the banner prior to the contest, and participated with band, cheer, dance and JROTC throughout the evening. FCCLA students guided the event to make it inclusive and inviting for all involved. #DynamicLeader #SelfMotivated #SkilledCommunicator #ServiceOriented #FutureReady

4 – Steele High School journalism students produced a riveting, and moving public service announcement against bullying for Unity Day. The school also organized a flash mob to sing, “We Are The World” to signal its commitment to stamp out bullying. #DynamicLeader #SelfMotivated #SelfMotivated #SkilledCommunicator #FutureReady

5 – A thoughtful gesture from some of the Samuel Clemens High School art students occurred earlier this week. They asked one of their beloved custodians to pose to allow them to sketch him. Timeless values of love, kindness and respect never go out of style! #DynamicLeader #SkilledCommunicator #FutureReady
